

Vadiraj T.

Honoris Causa

Social Service

Specialization in

Propagation of Dasa Sahitya

- Organized free medical camps for the poor and needy during 2009 floods at Mantralaya, Andhra Pradesh, along with MSS trust. Actively supported the conservation of nature and promoted societal cleanliness.
- Has been instrumental in revival and growth of TTD Dasa Literature Project group in Karnataka from an initial 500 members to a 2000 members strong group
- Released and distributed free books and CDs to promote the spread of Haridasa Literature, spirituality and culture in the society. Promoted, supported and accelerated the growth of societal awareness of our rich Haridasa heritage and Literature through the formation of a non-profit organization.
- Was instrumental in installation of first largest Purandara Dasa monolithic statue in India at Shri Uttaradi Mutt campus in Bangalore in Jan'2020. This furthered the everyday reach and highlight of the very rich kernel of India's Haridasa heritage to common public. The installation ceremony also hosted musical programs, spiritual discourses by eminent scholars and honorary programs to recognize unique service to society by doctors, by researchers in the field of Dasa Literature and heritage, social workers and scientist.
- Vadiraja Tayaluru have always been on the forefront among his friends as a kid and supporting the religious origin and participating in NCC, RSS and Scouts.
- Has also been an avid environmentalist and the victory of the Granite apprehension in Pajaka Kshetra proves that as an eminent achievement and a feather in his cap.
- It's a remarkable achievement as a forerunner always being an individual who tapers and renders religion. His role, being an architect in building Dasa Literature project of Karnataka division for TTD as Zonal -co-ordinator is always remembered.